Introduction

This Guide provides details on the retrofit of components approved by Dell Technologies for the Milestone Husky IVO video surveillance appliances ("Husky IVO").

Past the point of sales at Milestone, Milestone Channel Partners and end customers can freely purchase components listed below from Dell Technologies or the relevant Dell Technologies channels, by informing them of the respective serial number, i.e., service tag of their Husky IVO.

The Milestone Husky IVO Warranty and Support-Related Services Statement ("Husky IVO Warranty") does not cover Husky IVO in which components are installed that have not been provided by Milestone or which have not been approved by Dell Technologies. Moreover, the Husky IVO Warranty may be voided by Milestone in case of use of components that have not been provided by Milestone or components that have not been approved by Dell Technologies.

Please note that Milestone has not tested the additional or replacing components and their performance with Husky IVO. Milestone disclaims all warranties for any third-party product, please refer to the Husky IVO Warranty.
